A Celebration of Elliot Fix: Recognizing a Lifetime of Work in the Special Needs Community

Elliot Fix has worked professionally in the field of developmental disabilities for over 40 years. As an innovator in the field, in the mid-1970’s Elliot introduced special education programs to Rochester synagogues. As his students became adults, he subsequently created the Jewish Living Program, a project specifically designed for developmentally disabled adults to engage with Jewish life. Elliot has received numerous awards for his service to the community and excellence in Jewish education. Elliot is married to Tamar and together they have 3 adult children and are proud grandparents to a granddaughter and grandson.

About the film
Aharon has devoted his life to raising his son Uri. They live together in a gentle routine, away from the real world. But Uri is autistic, and now as a young adult it might be time for him to live in a specialized home. While on their way to Uri’s new home, Aharon decides to run away with his son and they hit the road. Is Uri not yet ready for this separation? Or is it, in fact, his father who is not ready?
